

Welcome

Contributed by Mike Ames
Friday, 28 December 2007
Last Updated Tuesday, 15 January 2008

Welcome to the Walden portfolio for Michael Ames. This portfolio was designed as my final project and includes all of the work completed during my Masters Degree at Walden. I have designed this site as a replica and a display for all my work. It is broken down in sections. The files below include the Portfolio essay, and a file that contains all of the written responses found on the pages of this site. the document download area contains all of my files from the the courses I took through out the program. In addition to that there is a section which displays student work. My classroom web site can also be viewed within this site by following the link above, or by going directly to it at <http://techedclass.com> . This site has taken some considerable time and in itself was a learning process. In the future I hope to redesign my classroom web site. In addition to these site I am also the web master for our school, Northwest High School I hope you enjoy reviewing my work.